The Dimmer VIEW

By MAX GOODWIN

This newspaper has become embattled, from time to time, with the County Building Inspection Department because of what we believe a poor grade of public service.

A news story, elsewhere in this paper this week, points up in goodly substance the kind of tyrannical operation we complain against.

In this story a builder reports to our Dick Henderson, bungling, inefficiency and dictatorial actions at the field level. This has not been an easy story to acquire. Most persons engaged in building insist their future is wrapped up in any growl they register against this department. Delays in approval, interpretation of the building code in such a manner that unreasonable costs are added, and failure to keep inspection appointments on time are frustrating and angering builders, plus adding to the overall costs. In the end the citizen who pays the wages of the inspector, is also paying a tribute in higher costs because of this deplorable situation.

For a while I was not sure that it was not the contractor, in his desire to cut costs, who was creating a situation through which he could, somehow, circumnavigate the code. I personally investigated several squawks and found the inspector to be as confused at the start as the contractor was at the end.

The contractors had pledged me to say nothing in print about it because of fear of reprisals. Dick Henderson, in his story, was not so constricted.

I have argued with the building inspection department on other occasions and Mr. Judge Waldrep, chief of the department, himself a conscientious administrator, defends his field men and this is understandable. But it has approached the stage of being ridiculous when the complainant is always wrong, and the department is always right.

Two months ago we acquired a list of local completions and it was in checking these out that the first attributable story of building inspection tyranny came to light.

I can assure the county building department, and the board of supervisors to whom the building department is responsible, that I personally know of others, and should they be sufficiently interested to hear them with an open mind I will tell them. These are the ones of which I have agreed not to use names, and that promise will be kept.

There will be others from time to time who will not so restrict us and it is these we will publish as long as it is in the public interest do do so and you can rest assured that the public will be served if tyranny is kicked out of the very offices which are born to serve the public.

L. G. Fire Election Attracts Three

Lemon Grove voters will name one new member to the district fire commission at an election Monday, April 2.

Three candidates will try for the commissioner's seat of Paul Tilton, whose term expires this year.

Among those in the race are Jerry Walter, Lemon Grove jeweler and civic leader who is active in the Men's Club of St. John of the Cross Church; Alfred Roulo, a former fire captain in Chicago, and Ignatius Leone, who tried for the job on two other occasions. His petition was incomplete in the first try. The second time he garnered 22 votes and Tom Parsons was elected by an overwhelming majority.

Term of office is three years and carries no pay.

INCORPORATION COMMITTEE WITHDRAWS FROM MEN'S CLUB

The Lemon Grove Men's Club voted unanimously to permit its Incorporation Committee to withdraw from the organization.

Dr. Gilbert Chassey, who had been chairman of the committee since it was organized in January said that the club's interest in other matters made the withdrawal mandaory if the movement was to survive.

He recommended that the project be turned over to a citizen's league, if such could be formed. He said that it was obvious that the Broadway widening project would hold the club's attention for many weeks and that would have a dampening effect upon any enthusiasm that might otherwise be present for incorporation.

"Incorporation must be supported by groups actively interested in seeing it through. The separation was made in the spirit of friendliness," he said.

Charles Kerch, who represents Curtis Coleman and Associates, business building investors, conducted the program. He said that he could foresee, as an appraiser, business property values rising at a steady rate in Lemon Grove.

"The Walker-Scott project will not deter property values," he stated, "but street and sidewalk improvements along Broadway must be made to make this rise possible."

Lemon Grove is presently doing the same volume of business on $300 a front foot value of property that they are doing in Chula Vista on property values of $1,500 per front foot, Kerch stated.

Lemon Grove could have the same type of increase in value as El Cajon Boulevard has had when property values rose from $50 to $500 per front foot in a 15 year period, Kerch said. As a guide to property value, Kerch said that some North Park property is valued at $3,000 per front foot.

Kerch, whose program was cut short by discussion in incorporation, said that he would give another day of his time to completing his business property analysis.

This program will be given Friday at Michael's at noon. All interested men are invited.

County Inspector Dilatory in Reporting, Charges Homebuilder

E. Hajek is owner of a lot 70x140 at 8192 Palm Ave., which has Mr. Hajek's home on the north half of the lot, leaving space for a duplex now being built by Hajek, who is doing the work himself. Hajek has built several houses in Lemon Grove since coming here from Medford, Oregon, a couple of years ago.

He is not a contractor but a private builder, does the carpenter work himself. Hajek says he has paid at least $2,000 to the county in fees for permits and inspections.

Recently Hajek took out county permits for a duplex at the corner of Palm and Washington and applied to the electric company for electrical connection for his power saw. After a week, while he waited for power, Hajek called up the electric company, asked why he had no power? The county inspector had approved the installation, tacked his inspection slip on the pole, and Hajek told the electric people so. They came back that the inspection slip had not reached them, and power turn on would have to wait 'til the slip was cleared.

Hajek says he waited three days, giving the power folks ample time, then he started phoning. He phoned at least ten times a day for three days, and his wife phoned an equal number of times.

Finally, Hajek lost his patience, took the slip off the pole and carried it to Civic Center to the building office, got hold of the chief inspector, told of the delay, and demanded action. The chief was apologetic, said the inspector had neglected to turn in his slip. When Hajek reached home, the power was on. The chief had called the electric company and immediate connection was made.

Hajek was framing the second duplex when seen by a REVIEW reporter on Thursday. Asked if he had been held up by the inspector's not having turned in his approval slip, he said "Yes," and related his experience as above.

Mr. Hajek gave his name and address, and said that as long as everything was okeh now he would rather not have his name used. The reporter explained that other complaints had reached The REVIEW office, but it was difficult to get any specific complaint such as his. He agreed that the inspector was dictatorial, used his authority in making minor changes in work done, and he didn't want any trouble with inspections in future operations. Local inspector is Clark Lucy.

Since this reporter had announced himself to Mr. Hajek on arrival, and Hajek had expressed himself as above, we feel that we are violating no confidence in printing this story.

If any contractor in this area feels that he has a grievance against the county building department or its employees, who are paid by the taxpayers, the REVIEW will be glad to take up the matter with the department. —D. Henderson.

Grove Sales Promotion to Be Part of Freeway Opening

A merchandising promotion, possibly built around the opening of the Imig Park-College Avenue section of the freeway, has been set by Lemon Grove merchants for the first weekend in May.

Named to a board to expedite the project was Ted Skelly, chairman; Tom Wigton, Sid Silverman, Charles Kerch, Larry Childress, Marshall Adams, Patricia Hutchinson, Bob Pullium, Bruce Harms, Arnholt Smith Jr., and Ken Priest.

A board meeting is being held this week (Thursday) at Michael's to establish each merchant's cost of participation. A full scale general meeting is scheduled for Thursday, March 29, at which time all merchants are invited to learn the details of the sales event.

All meetings are scheduled at Michael's and all meetings are luncheon meetings.

Review Aims for 5,000 Subscribers

A circulation campaign which will bring at least one thousand new subscribers into the Lemon Grove Review reader family will get under way this month.

The services of Dave Lomasney, veteran circulation man, have been acquired. Lomasney is compiling a "Pot of Gold" coupon book which will be given to new subscribers to this newspaper. The value of the book will be approximately $50 in free merchandise, movie tickets, automotive supplies, dinners, and the like.

These coupons will channel local residents into local stores. The books will cost the user nothing.

A crew of local door-to-door solicitors will call on non-subscribers during April to obtain these new readers. Subscription rate for the Review is $2.50 a year.

A circulation of 5,000 paid subscribers is seen for the newspaper this year, Max Goodwin, publisher of the Review, stated.

Free Roller Derby Tickets for Our Readers

There's a treat in store for roller derby fans who read this newspaper.

Next week there will be a coupon published in it by which the reader will be admitted to the San Diego Roller Derby in Mission Beach Rink Thursday, April 26 free of charge.

There is no tax to pay! No charge of any kind will be made! Just tear out the coupon and present it at the Roller Derby box office Thursday night, April 26, and be admitted.

Better still, tear out several coupons and form a party. The treat is on this newspaper and the Roller Derby people.

Republican Club To Hear Speakers On Party Principles

Lemon Grove Republicans will meet Friday, April 6 at the cafetorium of the Junior High School, according to Frank Armstrong, vice president of the Lemon Grove Republican Club.

Two outstanding speakers on "Republican Principles" will make up the program. Availability of the speakers will determine the program, Armstrong said.

762 Women Are Learning to Sew Via Adult High School

This is a story for and about LADIES ONLY, aged 18 years up.

I visited the clothing class taught by Mrs. Ilah Fuller on Thursday afternoon at VFW Hall, Imperial Avenue and Lincoln Street, in Lemon Grove, and chatted with several members of the class while they were at work. There were 19 names on the blackboard register, and some of the ladies had left when I arrived at 3:15 p.m.

Mrs. Fuller gave me a cordial welcome, said I could talk to the ladies singly. She was kept busy supervising the work being done by the students, and gave them attention in turn. The "students" all spoke highly of Mrs. Fuller, who later told me she has been teaching sewing since 1948. At present she has four classes each week with a minimum of 15 attendants, and 18 students are the average number.

The VFW Hall is a spacious room, with six tables widely spaced and allowing plenty of room for the ladies to lay out their work and cut patterns. Four sewing machines are provided and are used in turn by the students.

Mrs. Thomas Oderkerk, 3225 Massachusetts, was working at a table with a pattern spread out which was pinned to dress material. When she finished cutting, the dress was all ready to be sewn together. Mrs. Oderkerk has four children, all girls. The oldest is 18, a student at Junior College, the second girl goes to Helix High and two twin girls attend San Miguel. The dress being made, a very pretty design of red and green, is for the oldest girl. Mrs. Oderkerk remarked, "I need to sew for my kids and enjoy these sessions. I never sewed before, outside of patching sheets."

Mrs. Houk, 7730 Central, is enjoying her first semester as a seamstress student. Her first work was remodeling, and she is now finishing her first coat. She has two boys.

Mrs. Joe Rushing, who lives on Ensenada Street in Monterey Heights, was working on a pretty cotton print, which she had cut out and was about to put together. "First sewing I have done in 25 years," she said.

One lady, who asked that her name be withheld to avoid a family crisis, was remodeling a skirt. Said she paid a dressmaker $5.50 to make it and the professional got the cloth upside down, so this here lady was fixing it. "I'm not going to make any pretty sport shirts for my husband, 'cause he is kidding me too much. I tell him this sewing is my hobby. He bought me a $200 sewing machine, but it is not a portable, so I can't bring it to the class, but I manage to get some time to sew at home."

It was interesting to see the way Mrs. Fuller solved the problems of the students as she visited them. The garment was examined, the sleeves turned inside out if it was a coat, and suggestions as to finishing were given. No hurry or brushoff, every student given friendly and careful instruction.

Every one of the ladies seemed happy, cheerfully turned over the machine she was working with to the next lady when requested.

One lady had an electric iron hooked up and pressed out her coat that was about finished, then consulted Mrs. Fuller.

Mrs. Fuller told me she had one student 70 years old, who had never learned to sew, but was making good progress.

Students may start in at any time. This is an adult education program, and inquiries are welcomed at Grossmont Adult High School, John W. Davis, director, phone HO 6-4155.

I was surprised to learn from Mrs. Huckings, clerk in Mr. Davis' office, that there are at present 762 sewing students in the Grossmont area, with 28 classes in Lemon Grove, El Cajon, La Mesa, Lakeside, Grossmont. The entrance fee per semester is only $1. Any lady interested in sewing is invited to get in touch by telephone with Mr. Davis' office. Perhaps your husband would be interested in an evening class. Ask for a circular giving subjects and classes.

These ladies will give style shows at Grossmont High School Thursday, March 22 at 2 and 8 p.m.—D. H.

MOLLY'S EASTER PARTY REVIVED

Jon Serr, son of Charles Serr, 3682 Fairway Drive, poses with "Molly" Mouillesseaux, who has revived his annual Easter party for Lemon Grove kiddies. —L. G. Camera Foto

Remember a few years back when Molly Mouillesseaux, then an attendant at Hamilton's Service, started giving away rabbits for kiddies at Eastertime? It grew and grew 'til it became a community project, and then was dropped for lack of support. It was too big an undertaking.

Good Friday, March 30, just before Easter, and while all the children are on vacation, Molly, now having his own station on the west end of town, has revived the Easter party, with the backing and sponsorship of the L. G. Rotary Club, of which Molly is a member.

Arrangements have been made with the Grove Theater to show an Easter film, plus some cartoons, which will begin at 9 a.m. After the first show is over there will be a drawing of prizes on the lot just north of the theater. To be eligible for a prize you simply must have one ticket per child, which will be distributed through the L. G. schools, or pick one up at many of the various local stores. You do not have to be a resident of Lemon Grove, nor do you have to make any purchase—just take the children to the party.

After the movie each child will receive a bag of Easter candy, and the drawing will proceed at approximately 9:45 a.m. There will be over 200 prizes given away to the lucky ticket holders, including some live bunnies. After the drawings the movie will continue, and will run until all the children have seen it. It is expected that every child will have seen the movie by noon.

Helping on the committee with Molly are Earl Smart, local attorney, and Charlie Serr, real estate salesman. Also working on the project are the local schools which are sacking the candy, making posters, ticket boxes, and will help with the distribution. Rotarians will be on hand to pass out candy and prizes.

Youth Center Group In Third Meeting Of Series

Meeting for the third time since their election, the new executive committee of the Lemon Grove Youth Center will convene on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the office of the Congregational Church on Olive Street in Lemon Grove.

Business at the last meeting included reviewing and revising rental rates and priority structures for use of the Youth Center; and review of present equipment and necessary repairs and improvements by the director of facilities, Raymond Boggs.

The treasurer, Paul Reynolds, reported that the following contributions have been received: $120.00 from the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club, for use in youth programming; and $10.00 from District X, Girl Scout Council.

IMPORTANT! FOR INFORMATION CONCERNING BOOKINGS AND ACTIVITIES AT THE YOUTH CENTER, CONTACT MRS. FAY WALSH, HO 6-5422 OR CALL THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, HO 9-9621.

Essay Contest To Mark Public Schools Week

The Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge will again sponsor an essay contest to commemorate Public Schools Week April 23-27, it was announced this week by John Dail, master of the lodge.

Contestants will be in two groups. In grades 4 and 5 the subject will be: "Public Schools —What They Mean to Me" and in grades 6 and 7 the subject will be: "Public Schools—Their Importance to Our Community." According to Clarence Allen, principal of Vista La Mesa School who was named by the lodge to coordinate the affair.

Winners will be announced at a banquet, the date of which is to be announced later.

Allen said that there will be a winner at each grade level and that there would be five honorable mentions in addition to the winners.

NORTH PARK BUSINESSMAN BUYS TOY STORE FROM KROSCHEL

Purchase of the House of Toys, 7923 Broadway, from Sam Kroschel, was announced this week by a veteran county businessman, Kenneth Calder.

Kroschel is former owner of Monterey Heights Variety Store. Calder said it would be known as Calder's Lemon Grove Toy Town.

He also operates Calder's Toy Town at 3931 30th Street in North Park, and Calder's Colonial Candies on the same street but on the opposite side. He has been in business in the San Diego area for approximately 20 years.

Price involved in the transaction was not revealed. Calder said that he had just returned from a buying trip in Los Angeles by which the shop would rebuild the inventory. Meanwhile new displays and a novel turntable have been installed. "The turntable will be in operation 24 hours a day," he said. "We'll change the display every ten days or two weeks. We intend to keep fresh merchandise on display, and plenty of it," he added. Plans are also under way for adding another 50 feet to the rear of the store.

He said his son, Lt. Graydon Calder, now in the Air Force, would manage the store when he separates from the service in June. Young Calder, a former State College student, is 1946 holder of the class "B" high jump record of six feet three inches.

Junior College District Consideration Postponed

Although a Junior College District could be formed and be in operation within two years, the Grossmont School Board last week decided to postpone action but to continue study of such an eventuality.

Grossmont Citizens Advisory Committee had previously endorsed, by an 8 to 6 vote, calling for an election leading to the formation of a college district if the voters approved.

The decision to request further study reached at a board meeting last week will enable the district administration to study the possibility of lower operating costs which could be effected by operation of the program at one of the high schools on an afternoon-evening basis. Charles Irwin, member of the board from La Mesa, said "We must learn to walk before we can run," in urging delay in construction of a new college plant and full scale operation of a program."

A time schedule for the formation of a junior college district disclosed that 13 months would be required if an election were to be held before February 1, or if held after February 1, the time requirement would be increased to 25 months.

There was general agreement regarding the educational values of the college program. The need to study costs and to determine the extent of public support was also indicated.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUES PASS IN SV - LM DISTRICT

Two school bond issues passed in the Spring Valley-La Mesa Elementary School District Tuesday.

Residents voted a $960,000 bond issue 6,450-1,796. They voted 6,336-1776 authorizing their trustees to ask $1,562,000 in state aid

They also voted to permit their present tax override of 40c per $100 assessed valuation for operation and maintenance of their schools to continue. This issue required only a majority. It passed 5,844-2,272.

Each bond issue passed by more than 75%. 8,000 of 18,000 registered voters went to the polls.

Passing of the issues will take effect on 3,000 students who are now on double sessions.

$30,000 Swimming Pool Included in Plans for New High School

A citizen's committee's recommendation to include a $30,000 swimming pool in plans for the new high school has been approved by Grossmont Union High School trustees.

At the same time trustees changed the name of the school from San Miguel to Mount Miguel High School. The new school will be erected in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. The action came Monday night at a meeting in Grossmont High School.

The name change had been asked by the Episcopalian diocese in San Diego because the diocese has a school named San Miguel in National City.

District Superintendent Lewis F. Smith said the board approved a plan for a standard size 40x75 foot pool.

In approving the swimming facility, the board emphasized the educational and physical importance of a swimming program. Lifesaving programs would be included in the school's physical education program.

A proposal by another citizen's committee to establish a junior college in the district will require further study.

The black-and-white sound film was produced for the Social Security Administration by the Motion Picture Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

It briefly describes the meaning of the social security law for self-employed farmers, migrant farm workers, farm owners, and the families of young farmers.

Area residents seeking information or wanting to file a claim for social security may do so without having to go into San Diego, Spry said. This service is available at the El Cajon Chamber of Commerce, 117 N. Orange, El Cajon, on the second and fourth Tuesday of every month from 9 to 12.

Counselling Courses Announced By Community Chest

Plans for the second annual Union Counselling Course were announced yesterday by Jim Curry, secretary-treasurer of the CIO San Diego Industrial Union Council.

The first session of the eight week course is slated next month for April 19 at 7:30 p.m. at United Success Headquarters, 3535 Enterprise.

"Our sponsorship of this course for the general public is one of the ways in which we demonstrate our convictions that the union member has a responsibility to his community," Curry said.

"He must cooperate with his fellow citizens in making his community a good place in which to live, to work, to raise children. He must be concerned about the availability of adequate health, welfare and recreational services for the whole community."

The course, which was inaugurated last year, will consist of eight two-hour sessions designed to acquaint union members and the public in general with local health and welfare services.

Many of the 50 persons participating in last year's course are active in the planning of this year's sessions, Curry said.

Topics to be covered on consecutive Thursdays, will be:

Recreation and Guidance for Youth and Adults; Tax-Supported Services for Families and Children; Voluntary Supported Services for Families and Children; Public Health Services; Voluntary Health Services; Industrial Compensation; Disability Compensation; and How Responsible Citizens Work Together to Build a Better Community for Everybody.

The course is under auspices of the AFL-CIO, Community Welfare Council and the San Diego Area Community Chest. There is a registration fee of $2.50 to cover the cost of needed materials.

Those wanting to take the course should make arrangements through United Success Headquarters.

Grove Democrats to Choose Assembly Candidates Saturday

Democrats of the 78th, 79th, and 80th Assembly Districts will choose their candidates for assembly and a congressional nominee, at the forthcoming endorsing convention on Saturday, March 24, 10 a.m. in the Continental Room of the San Diego Hotel.

Prospective candidates asking for endorsement have all promised to withdraw in favor of the endorsed candidate.

Activities for the convention will open early, with registration of delegates, invocation and introduction of the keynote speaker, State Senator Richard Richards, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, who will address the convention at 10:15 a.m., followed by a report of the adoption of rules committee, nominating and seconding speeches for candidates, special guest time, nominations for the congressional nominee for the 30th district, after which the convention will recess for lunch, reconvening at 1:30 p.m. and adjourning at 4:30 p.m.

Featured in the evening and open to the public, officially closing the convention in a gala holiday spirit, will be the "Harmony Hop," with continuous dancing, floor show, fun and entertainment with Larry Flores and band from 9 p.m. to 1 p.m. in the new Venetian Room of the Hotel Grant. Donations $1.00. Mrs. Sylvia Haffner, chairman, ACademy 2-3871.

Local Names Appear On Shearer's Petition For Assembly

Five Homeland area residents are among the 30 Republicans who have signed the nomination petition of William K. Shearer, candidate for State Assemblyman in the 77th district. Fifteen of the signatures are from the southern portion of the district, 15 are from nothern San Diego County.

Max Goodwin, publisher of the Lemon Grove Review and the Spring Valley Bulletin, leads the list of Homeland signers. Others endorsing Shearer are: Channing J. Mason and George Casteel of Lemon Grove, and John E. Abbott and Col. M. L. Shively of Spring Valley. Shearer's Democratic petition is being carried by J. William Clark of Spring Valley.

Shearer's active campaign began last week when he circulated his petitions, and began a series of speaking engagements in northern San Diego County. In an address to the Bonsall Lions Club on Tuesday, Shearer said that the federal government owns 46 per cent of all land in California. He suggested that much of this land should be turned over to the state so that local governments could get the property on the tax rolls.

"Since 1938," Shearer said, "the federal government has acquired more than 2,000,000 acres of land in California. The assessed value of this land and improvements is $245,000,000. The annual tax loss to Californians is $17,000,000." Shearer said that the federal government owns approximately 455,000,000 acres of land in the United States, representing 24 per cent of our entire land area.

"Some 40 government agencies, each with its own attorneys, agents, and conflicting regulations, govern this area," Shearer said. He called this acreage "a vast, unnecessary federal land empire."

Grove Toastmasters Produce Winning Speakers

Two Lemon Grove men "talked off" with a first and second place in the humorous and extemporaneous speech events at the 19th Area 8 Annual Toastmasters Speech Contest held at La Mesa Junior High School Friday night. "Let George Do it" seemed like good advice to the Lemon Grove Toastamsters Club, which sent George Fickas and George Hamilton into the competition. George Fickas was awarded a cup as the most humorous speaker, and George Hamilton placed second among the extemporaneous speakers. Winner of this latter event was Bob Phillips of the National City Toastmasters Club.

Area Governor Dick Spry, who resides in Lemon Grove, conducted the contest, assisted by Bob Snow, Lemon Grove, toastmaster of the evening, and Lloyd Plumber, La Mesa, past district governor, who presented the cups to the winners. Fickas and Phillips will represent area 8 in the district finals to be held in May at the U. S. Grant Hotel, said Spry. The Lemon Grove men are especially deserving of praise, he added, because their club is the newest of the five in this area, having only been chartered a month ago.

Mrs. Charles Taylor Named President of Jr. Hi PTA

The officers who are to serve for the 1956-57 term of the Lemon Grove Junior High Parent-Teacher Association were elected Tuesday, March 15 at the scheduled meeting of the unit. Darroch, historian; John Gregory, auditor.

Student participation was featured. Problems in mathematics were solved by the students of Mrs. Whalen's eighth grade and questions on social studies were answered by students of Harry Butler. Art work was demonstrated by students from Mrs. Cornelius' class. Albert Van Zanten's seventh grade students presented a demonstration of mechanical drawing.

Refreshments were served at the social hour by the room mothers and parents of the 6-1, 6-2, 6-6 and 8-2 classes.

Crippled Children's Project to Be at Mayfair Saturday

"Wish Them Well" is the slogan designed to catch the eye, the hearts and the coins of Lemon Grove residents Saturday when National Crippled Children's Day will be observed.

Intended to focus special attention on crippled children and their needs, a life size wishing well topped with a poster bearing the slogan will be located tomorrow at the Mayfair Market to receive contributions for crippled children.

This community is one of 25 throughout the county where the wishing wells will be spotted as a highlight of the current Easter Seal drive.

The wishing well project is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Children's Hospital.

Members of the Helix unit of the auxiliary will staff the well, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold P. Ames.

Wishing well proceeds will supplement contributions made to the annual Easter Seal drive, sponsored locally by the San Diego Society for Crippled Children, owners and operators of Children's Hospital. The drive will continue through April 10.

Area Auditorium Envisioned By Helix Music Backers

A group of Helix Band and Orchestra backers met Monday night at Helix High to discuss the possibilities of obtaining an area auditorium.

Mrs. Don Hill, president of Helix Band and Orchestra Parents Club, called the meeting as a result of the interest indicated by both adjudicators.

The Helix Orchestra directed by Daniel Lewis and the Helix Concert Band directed by Lawrence Christianson, gained favorable attention at the Instrumental Music Festival in March at Mission Bay High School. This affair is sponsored annually by the California School Band and Orchestra Association.

Helix has attracted favorable comment from many California music educators. Maurice Faulkner, professor of music, University of California at Santa Barbara and leading musical educator on the west coast, said "Helix orchestra should go on tour in the east to represent California at the Musical Educators Convention. It is one of the finest school orchestras in the country and this year achieved the peak of music festival work of the past several years. The quality of this organization is hard to surpass." Ralph Rush, chairman of Music Education Department of USC, noted "Helix orchestra gave a really professional performance that any first rate symphony orchestra would be proud to turn in. The recording of this group will be used to set the standard of excellent for which cadet teachers should aim."

Nicholas Furjanick, assistant supervisor of music in Long Beach, said "Terrific. Helix orchestra rendered the most beautiful work I have ever heard. Congratulations to Daniel Lewis and one of the finest high school orchestras."

The Concert Band under the baton of Mr. Christianson, merited similar comments on Saturday's performance.

Members of the organizing group said that noteworthy talent existing in the Helix Music Department has yet to be heard by many local residents and even some Helix students, due to lack of suitable facilities. Such facilities could serve all of the area's auditorium needs which includes bringing professional talent into the community.

All groups and individuals interested in plans for a local auditorium are urged to attend the next meeting, date of which is to be announced or call Mrs. D. Hill at HO 9-5053.

Gauldin's Shows Fashions at Business Women's Meeting

This last weekend has probably been a bad time for most husbands of the gals from the Business Women's League. No doubt the poor guys have been pestered with requests for new spring bonnets for their wives, and no small wonder. The wives were privileged to prevue a display of spring hats and accessories at their luncheon meeting Thursday.

Helen Gauldin's Style Shop graciously presented each lady with a spring corsage and then made them all drool with their showing of beautiful new arrivals for spring.

The meeting was well attended, there being 40 members and guests present. The nominating committee brought in their report which will be voted on at the next regular meeting, April 5.

Twenty dollars was voted for the transportation of Campfire Girls to their summer day camp at Balboa Park. The Red Cross needs cards and gift wrappings for Mother's Day. The cake booth at the Swimming Pool Carnival on May 11 and 12 will be manned by the Business Women's League.

It's a LONG Story . . . But Here Goes

When A. J. Long started his wholesale distributing business in Lemon Grove four years ago he didn't know he was going to confuse a lot of people, including himself.

He set up his place of business at 7559 Broadway, and called it the A. J. Long Wholesale Gift Distributing Company. Last year he hired an associate. His name is Fred Long and is no relation to A. J.

Last week, A. J. bought a new building at 3570 Olive Street. He bought it from Ralph Long who moved last year to El Cajon.

A. J. said the reason for moving was the need for space. His business, he said, had doubled each of the four years he had been in business.

It's the Truth!

Retired Colonel Tells Tall Tales

Col. Warren D. Gent of 3793 35th St., San Diego, a retired traveling man, who used to "make" New Mexico, tells a tale of a school teacher, who didn't like to "keep house," a landlady who did, and who insisted on her customers making their beds every day, the lady customers, that is.

All this happened in Fort Sumner, New Mexico, the town where Billy the Kid was killed, and it was several years ago, though Gent vouches for the truth of the story.

It seems that the school teacher had a room in the hotel in this town, but there was no dining room connected, and the teacher agreed to make her own bed, which she did by throwing the covers back over the foot of the bed to air, making the bed after school or later.

The landlady was a snooper, and didn't like the room to be kept in disorder and spoke sharply to the teacher, who came back with something snappy about the fleas in the bed.

So the landlady went out on the prairie and got a dead woodchuck and put it under the blankets in the teacher's bed. Nothing happened the first day, but the second day the teacher was wild. She stormed down and had a wordy interview with the landlady, said the fleas ate her up the night before, and couldn't something be done. The landlady said "Maybe if you'd make your bed properly the fleas wouldn't be there," so the teacher took the hint, stripped the covers and found the woodchuck's remainders, and the source of the fleas.

Gent didn't learn whether the teacher continued to be a tenant. This here town was small and had few accommodations for roomers. Gent says he spent only one night in the "hotel," and there were plenty of fleas for him.

Gent tells another story about a man in Arizona who went on a diet of Campbell's soup and crackers, stayed on this diet for 30 years, and owed the grocer $700 for his food when he and the grocer settled up. The grocer had a mortgage on the man's property. The cans were thrown out in the back yard.

They made quite a pile.

Another tale by Gent is about a soldier in the Civil War who had his left leg shot off and was lying on the battlefield, waiting for help. This was before stretcher crews were thought of, and when a comrade came along and found the wounded man he picked him up, threw him over his shoulder and started for the dressing station. A cannon-ball came by, cut off the wonded man's head, but the man carrying the wounded soldier didn't know it. Finally an officer came up, said "What are you carrying that corpse for?" Putting down his burden, the rescuing soldier gave a look, scratched his head and said "I swear I thought that man told me his leg was shot off."

Col. Gent, who served in both World Wars, and had charge of feeding 10,000 men at the depots near London in WW II, is a painter of pictures, and puts in some of his spare time at his hobby. Several of his pictures have hung in various Lemon Grove locations.—D. H.

Woman Celebrates 87th Birthday on St. Patrick's Day

Anna Doty, 1727 Skyline Drive, marked her 87th birthday on St. Patrick's Day Friday.

She lives with her daughter and son-in-law, the James Yeos.

"A Dutchman celebrating her birthday on St. Pat's Day," sniffed Jim "Pop" Yeo.

Mrs. Doty is active in Eastern Star affairs.

Wrong Hours Listed By Newspaper

This newspaper inadvertently gave the wrong open hours last week for one of its tv sales and service advertisers.

The weekday hours of the firm are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Saturday they are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The firm is Lemon Grove Radio and Appliance at 7973 Broadway.

The paper tried to indicate the firm opened at 6 a.m. daily. Burt and Edna Snyder, firm owners, wouldn't go for the extra three hours a day we tried to wish on them. Now you know the proper hours.

Parade of Water, Sewer Progress Shown at Civic Center

San Diego Water Department has a Parade of Progress on exhibit in the rotunda of Civic Center with photographs of water development in San Diego since 1888, when the flume was built. A photo of a flotilla of boats cruising the flume, with the then Governor Waterman and other dignitaries leading the parade and showing the inauguration of first water brought in from outside of city limits is No. 1 in the photo exhibit. This water was brought to University Heights reservoir later, and was the chief source of supply for the higher levels of the city. A standpipe, 100 feet high, on what is now Presidio Point, furnished pressure to Middletown area. M. Hall had a lemon orchard on the Point at that time, and most of the water for the residents of the lower levels was pumped from the bed of the San Diego River. Consumption of water at about that period was around three million gallons daily. This was about 1900, the time the city acquired the San Diego Water Company ssytem from the then owners of the flume, and before the completion of Morena Dam.

The photographs show the progress in development from the Padre Dam and ditch along the side of the mountain to the Old Mission to the completion of the system bringing in water from the "first barrel." Some of the photos shown were from the Union Title Co.'s collection.

Another interesting exhibit is the model of a sewage disposal plant to be built near Imperial Beach. The whole plant is shown in miniature. Some concern was expressed by viewers as to the objectionable odors which they thought would be present. A visit to El Cajon's sewage disposal plant will convince anyone that their fears are not justified.

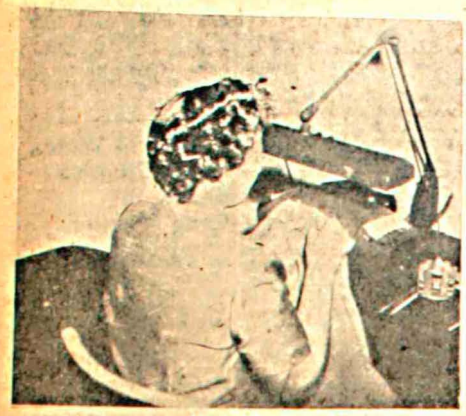
Nationally Known Authority on Weaving Opens Area Shop



Mrs. Martin

Mrs. Jeannette Martin, nationally recognized authority in the art of invisible fabric repair, recently opened the "French Art Weavers" at 8818 La Mesa Blvd., in La Mesa. This fills a long standing need in this area since there are no established reweaving shops east of North Park.

Mrs. Martin was born in Mulhouse, Alsace Loraine, France, where at an early age she took up the profession of a "Stoppeur." Translated, stoppage means invisible reveaving. She was employed in a large textile mill where she would make repairs of damages which often occur in the process of weaving. Later, she went to Paris where she trained for a number of years under one of the old masters of the art.

In 1937 Mrs. Martin came to this country and secured employment in the reweaving department of Bullock's Stores in Los Angeles. She remained there for five years, and then secured a position with the Wonder Weavers in Hollywood where she met her husband, who was owner of the plant. During the war, while her husband was overseas, she continued to operate the business.

In 1945 the Martins sold their Hollywood business and toured the country, teaching other professional reweavers a new proces they had developed, known as the Won-R-Way method of reweaving.

The couple settled in San Diego in 1947 and established the Wonder Weavers on Meade Ave. In 1952 Mrs. Martin wrote four textbooks on invisible fabric repair which have since been recognized as an authority on the subject. These books have recently been combined into a low cost home study course in an effort to fill the need for this type of service in many communities.

Two Important Issues to Be Discussed at C of C Meeting

Due to the present legislation pending at Sacramento, to make San Diego County a metropolitan area, a discussion on the possibility of having Spring Valley and Lemon Grove incorporate will be held during the Monday night, March 26 meeting of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce. The meeting starts at 8 p.m. Public invited.

The other issue to be discussed will be the possibility of having the old adobe Porter House made a state landmark. President Doughman of the SV Chamber said that the County Historical Committee will meet in Spring Valley at an early date to inspect the building.

This new long distance service is scheduled to be cut-into service April 15. Local subscribers then will be able to place many of their own long-distance calls.

The talks vary in length from 15 to 45 minutes, depending upon the amount of time available. Visual aids will be used.

Inquiries for these talks may be made at HOpkins 6-3201.

RANCHO MARKET BURGLAR WILL BE STATE GUEST ONE TO 15 YEARS

Michael Allen Williams, formerly of 3125 Kettner Blvd., San Diego, who plead guilty to attempting to rob the Rancho Market Basket at 2 a.m. February 13, was sentenced Thursday by Judge Hewicker to one to 15 years in prison.

Williams was paroled August 15, 1955 from a one to 15 year stretch for second degree burglary of a residence. He served two years, a probation report stated. He first came to the attention of probation department in 1948 as a shoplifter. He was made a juvenile court ward in 1948 after an ammunition theft at a Point Loma High School armory.

Later he joined the Air Force, but was sent to an Oklahoma prison for car theft, the report further stated.

John Herbert Stevenson of 925 Gillespie Dr., Spring Valley, Williams' partner in the market burglary, and co-defendant with him at the trial, and who also plead guilty, will have a probation hearing March 16.

Sheriff's Deputy Hal Johnston, who discovered the entrance to the market at an early morn of Feb. 13 and with other officers caught the miscreants in the act, reported at the time that the burglars threw cans of tomatoes and glasses of jam at the officers, but submitted quietly to arrest.—D. H.,

Direct Dialing Starts Next Month

Telephone company switchmen have nearly completed checking out lines connecting the local dial equipment office with Direct Distance Dialing headquarters at 7th and University Avenues, San Diego.

Lemon Grove people with dial telephones will be able to pick up their receiver and dial many of their own long distance calls to many sections of the country after the introduction of DDD April 15. Charges for these calls will remain the same.

Instructional booklet with detailed explanations of all phases of the program will be mailed to subscribers the first week in April.

The DDD cut-over marks the first time all dial telephone users in a metropolitan area will have access to nationwide dialing.

Most of the 2½ million telephones in Southern California will be dialable from here. Among those included are Alhambra, Anaheim, Arcadia, Burbank, Compton, Culver City, El Centro, Escondido, Glendale, Long Beach, most Los Angeles numbers, and Pasadena.

Eighteen major cities in the country outside Los Angeles also will be dialed. They are Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Detroit, Milwaukee, Oakland, Sacramento, San Francisco, Portland, Newark, New York City, Oklahoma City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Phoenix, St. Louis, and Washington, D. C.

School Board Special Meeting to Assess Need for Warehouse

A special meeting of the Lemon Grove School Board has been called for Monday afternoon, March 26, 5:30, at the Education Center. At that time the members will give further consideration to construction of a district warehouse and maintenance shop at the administrative unit, away from a school site. At present temporary structures house this department on the junior high grounds.

They will hear an architect's report on the above proposal as well as on preliminary planning for a state application for funds to build additional classrooms. Funds now available for construction of other needed facilities would be subtracted from state monies if not channeled now into these projects.

Other items on the agenda include approval of the school calendar for 1956-57, a review of board policies and procedures adopted during the past several months, and consideration of routine requests and reports. The meeting will convene that same evening at 7:30 for the regular session. Business not concluded at the special session will be reviewed at that time.

The curriculum demonstration usually presented at the second meeting of the board each month has been postponed until April because of spring vacation. All schools will be closed during the week of March 25. Classes resume Monday, April 2.

Dinner Planned By Parents of Blind

The parents of the blind and partially sighted will hold their annual Founder's Day dinner on Tuesday, March 27 at 6:30 o'clock in the Blind Recreation Center, 1805 Upas St. Following a potluck supper there will be a brief report on the reasons for the formation of the club and the goals accomplished.

Mrs. Bunch Elected President of San Miguel PTA

Parents and teachers of the San Miguel PTA had their annual spaghetti dinner-election Thursday evening, during which the following slate of officers was elected: President, Mrs. Elizabeth Bunch; first vice president, Mrs. Eleanor Engelstad; second vice president, Mrs. H. L. Hensley; third vice president, Mrs. June Klimek; fourth vice president, Mrs. W. Allen; recording secretary, Theron Scott, corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. C. Hubbard; historian, Miss Barbara Wheeler; and auditor, Keith Richard.

The PTA meeting April 12 at San Miguel School will mark the initiation of a new project in which the hobby show will be combined with a fashion show. The fashions and hobbies are unlimited and everyone may participate. The only restriction is that the clothes must be "homemade." This promises to be a most interesting evening.

Stork Express Makes 5 Flights to Grove, 2 to Spring Valley

The Stork Express made five deliveries to Lemon Grove homes via Grossmont Hospital, in February and the first week of March.

Lemon Grove residents receiving bundles from Heaven were:

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tumblelson, 7006 Central Avenue, a girl, weighing 7 lbs., 1½ oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Louis De Goetano, 1792 Colfax, a boy, 6 lbs. 11½ oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hahling, 8447 Adams St., a boy, 5 lbs. 14½ oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Takanaski, 3541 Olive, on March 6. This young man weighed 7 lbs.

Spring Valley homes gladdened by arrivals were:

Mr. and Mrs. William King Phillips, 8633 Valencis Drive, a boy weighing 6 lbs. 12½ oz., on February 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maynard, 3455 Valley View Lane, a boy, 7 lbs. 12 oz. on Feb. 29.

During this period from Feb. 17 through March 6, 51 babies were born in Grossmont Hospital, 29 boys and 22 girls.

Babies born in the county average 500 per month. Lemon Grove and Spring Valley seem to be doing their share towards population increase.—D. H.

Pack 308 Awards Given at Jr. Hi

The monthly Cub Scout meeting of Pack 308 was held Friday at Junior High Cafetorium, with a program theme of "Underseas Activties."
